Monthly Market Commentary

Equity markets ended positive for the month of February, boosted by vaccine rollouts and drops in infections. However, there are rising concerns of inflation at some point in the future due to government spending. Increases in commodity prices have also fueled higher inflation expectations as oil prices have lifted close to pre-COVID levels. Government bond yields are increasing as a result of expectations of higher growth and inflation. The trend in rotation to value and small cap stocks also continued during the month. Small caps returned 5.0%, and value stocks returned 4.8%, compared to 0.4% and 2.8% from growth and large cap, respectively. Total nonfarm payroll employment increased in February by 379,000 and the unemployment rate decreased by 0.1% to 6.2%. Inflation, as measured by the Consumer Price Index, increased 0.4% in February. For the fourth quarter of 2020, the estimate of U.S. Real GDP released by the Bureau of Economic Analysis increased at an annual rate of +4.1%.

MSCI Europe ex UK returned 2.6%, with banks and other value sectors outperforming.

The Money Market Portfolio returned +0.0% during February.
